Soviets Accuse Three Americans of Spying

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today accused three U.S. military attaches and a British attaché of espionage in Siberia but the American Embassy rejected the charge.

The Soviet accusation "was not responsive to our serious protests against the violations of diplomatic immunity" of the attaches, the U.S. Embassy said, referring to an earlier protest that property of the attaches was seized.

The Foreign Ministry said it rejected the American and British protests.

The Soviet protest was made public a day after Washington and London announced protests against what they called "flagrant violation" of the attaches' diplomatic immunity.

In the Soviet far eastern city of Khabarovsk Sept. 28-29 Soviet government officials "forcibly entered" the attaches' rooms and seized some of their property, the Western statements said.

The Soviet protest said more than 900 pictures, material in 26 notebooks and other materials showed that the attaches were "grossly violating the universally accepted standards of conduct of foreign diplomats."

The four are Lt. Cmdr. Nigel N. Laville, assistant British naval attaché in Moscow; Lt. Col. Karl R. Liewer, assistant American military attaché; Col. George A. Aubrey, the American military attaché; and Maj. James F. Smith, an assistant American air attaché.

'Tens of Nations' to Have Atom Weapons, Sec. McNamara Warns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said there is no question but that "tens of nations" could have nuclear weapons and the means of delivering them in another 10 or 20 years.

This grim prospect will result, he said, from an expected dramatic drop in the cost of making warheads and the spread of advanced, simpler nuclear technology throughout the world.

The proliferation of nuclear weapons "is one of the great dangers that we face and must continue to act to reduce and prevent," McNamara said in a wide-ranging exposition of views which also covered the draft, "hot pursuit" in Viet Nam, the Republicans, and presidential control of atomic weapons.

His views were expressed in a recorded interview with reporter Irving Kupcinet. It was televised by a Chicago station on a midnight show over the weekend.

The station is WBKB-TV. The Pentagon provided a transcript on request.

McNamara said the cost of nuclear warheads today ranged from $500,000 to $1,000,000 each, but would "fall dramatically" in the years ahead.

This would enable other nations to develop and produce weapons.

"You can imagine the danger that the world would face if 10, 20 or 30 nations possessed nuclear warheads instead of the four that possess them today," McNamara said.

"... Without question it will be possible for tens of nations to possess such weapons 10 or 20 years from now."

Tshombe Under Virtual Arrest In Egypt Capital

By WEBB MCKINLEY
CAIRO (AP) — Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe was kept under virtual house arrest today while the conference of nonaligned nations decided whether to admit him.

After arriving before dawn, Tshombe and several members of his party were whisked to walled Auba Palace in suburban Heliopolis. A cordon of police was thrown around the structure.

Tshombe was visited this morning by Mohamed Faik, director of African affairs in President Gamal Abdel Nasser's office. Faik told Tshombe he would not be permitted to leave the palace, except to the conference reached a decision.

A crowd of newsmen collected outside the walls of the palace. Egyptian employees at the palace switchboard told callers: "He is not here."

However, Tshombe was in the palace. With him was Rene Bava, the Congolese charge d'affaires in Cairo, who was permitted to enter early this morning.

Tshombe's doctor said a report that Tshombe's health papers were not in order and he might have to stay under quarantine was ridiculous. The doctor said the premier's health certificate was in perfect order and necessary vaccinations and inoculations were up to date.

Hubert Finds Watch Gone After Speech

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey may become a clock watcher.

Humphrey placed his watch on the speaker's podium during his address Monday night to keep track of the time. He left the podium during the applause that followed his speech.

When he returned to get his watch, it was gone.

Ike in Middle Of GOP, Demo Atom Dispute

By W.B. RAGSDALE Jr.
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was in the middle today — between Democrats and Republicans, each claiming he was on their side in a dispute over nuclear weapons control.

It began Monday when the GOP unveiled a task-force report claiming President Johnson had overextended his control of field-type nuclear weapons. This, the GOP group contended, has damaged U.S. security.

Eisenhower appeared at a New York news conference, but wouldn't endorse or reject the report.

He deplored the injection of the nuclear-weapons issue into the presidential campaign and added: "I don't think these are things that ought to be talked out in detail. I don't think we should reach conclusions, telling the President what he should do or what he should say."

The White House promptly released a statement declaring that President Johnson agreed with Eisenhower that "it is not in the best interest of the country to take our defense plans and make them public."

Dean Burch, Republican national chairman, said Johnson's comment was "a patent attempt to get off the hook of an issue which is embarrassing him and his administration because the American people realize the Democrats have used the question of nuclear weapons to (Turn to Page A4, Column 5)

UNITED FUND STORY—Stephen Green of the Knob Hill post office operates a slide projector to launch the United Fund campaign among postal employees. The Knob Hill branch has supported the drive outstandingly for the past two years. Standing from left are: Albert Lagerwey who reports 100% support from the main post office for eight years and Alex Onufrook, assistant postmaster who has worked on various committees of the United Fund and its predecessor the Community Chest for more than 20 years. The United Fund film which depicts committees at work and local agencies in action has been shown to thousands of employees in the Pikes Peak Region since the drive for $484,800 began.

GM, Union to Try Again to Settle Local Disputes

By A. F. MAHAN
DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union try again today to settle 117 local level working agreements and end a strike against the automaker.

The local agreements supplement the national contract on which the UAW and GM agreed Monday.

Both sides expressed hope everything could be wrapped up in a week, but neither predicted it would be.

Final settlement would send back to their jobs 280,000 of General Motors' 350,000 UAW-represented workers who were called out on strike 12 days ago to support the union's national-level demands. They remain out to back up at-the-plant union goals.

President Johnson said in Washington Monday night he was pleased that GM and the UAW have settled nationally and also was pleased with previous announcements by the Big Three auto makers — GM, Ford and Chrysler — they planned generally to maintain 1964 prices for 1965 models.

The President also cautioned others against following what he called a generous settlement by an industry which has been racking up record profits for the last year and a half.

The new national agreement had the effect of lifting a damper from the national economy as motors led a strong stock market rally. GM stock hit a new high of $102.12 before closing at $100.50, up $1.25 for the day. Ford advanced $1 to $58.62. GM made $1.1 billion in this year's first half, compared with $1.59 billion in all of 1963 — the largest profit ever made by a manufacturing corporation. Ford and Chrysler also set records last year.

Chrysler and Ford reached virtual parallel agreements with the UAW ahead of General Motors. UAW President Walter P. Reuther estimated they were (Turn to Page A4, Column 7)

Flood Threats Increasing in Louisiana

By ROBERT ROWAND
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Louisiana, hit by its worst hurricane in seven years, stepped up efforts to return to normal today even while flood threats mounted.

Gov. John McKeithen flew on an inspection tour of several devastated areas Monday and described what he saw as "a terrible disaster."

Hurricane Hilda moved up through the Gulf of Mexico and struck Louisiana's coast Saturday. Hilda and the vicious tornadoes she set off killed 36 persons.

Damages may run to $100 million.

Hilda's might wore out over Louisiana. After colliding with a cold front over Georgia and the Carolinas, it pushed out into the Atlantic Ocean.

Repair crews fanned out over Louisiana to fix electric, gas, sewage, water and communication lines knocked out by the storm. Insurance companies beefed up their claims offices. Farmers began salvaging what was left of their crops. Stricken residents returned to their homes — or what was left of them — to clean up debris.

While all this was going on, hundreds were forced to evacuate their homes in the Baton Rouge area because of rising waters in the Amite and Comite river basins. Officials expected them to crest three to six feet above flood stage today.

President Johnson earmarked $1 million in emergency funds for hurricane disaster relief in Louisiana.

The Small Business Administration designated all sections of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama hit by the winds and floods as disaster areas.

McKeithen arrived at Larose as funeral services were starting for some of the 21 persons killed by a tornado which demo- (Turn to Page A4, Column 5)

DENTAL ASSOCIATION AWARD—An award for distinguished service is presented to former Governor Dan Thornton by William A. Hiait, chairman of the educational and research committee of the Colorado Dental Association currently meeting at the Broadmoor Hotel.

Thornton Says Dental School Is Necessity

The establishment of a state-supported school of dentistry at the University of Colorado Medical Center in Denver is a necessity if Colorado is to maintain its historic reputation as a leader in all fields, former Governor Dan Thornton told the Colorado Dental Association meeting in the Broadmoor Hotel Monday afternoon.

Thornton reminded his audience that most of the dentists today in Colorado were graduated from the old school of dentistry at C.U. that shut down in 1932.

"Since 1932, however," said Thornton, "young Coloradans interested in dentistry as a profession have had to obtain their education elsewhere, frequently at great personal sacrifice."

Despite the obvious need for a school of dentistry, and despite the efforts of himself and his successors, said Thornton, "the drive lacked push... and produced no brick or mortar."

After forming a distinguished Citizens Dental School Committee, and after polling the mem-

Models Given Scenic View With Machine

By BART KINCH

If a new concept in photography by a London photographer catches on, the glamorous modeling profession will lose some of its glamor.

Photographer Leo Valla has developed a system which makes it possible to photograph people realistically with almost any background without leaving the studio.

Valla's "instant montage" makes it possible for anyone to be photographed in any—or all—capitals of the world in full color without traveling any further than a nearby studio.

Valla calls his system "Transflex" and it already has sparked some controversy among models in London who fear their frequent trips to Jamaica, Martinique, the Bahamas, Rome and Paris on fashion assignments may become a thing of the past.

The Lucy Clayton Agency which represents many of the top models in Europe, indicated it was opposed to Transflex.

"We regret the development," a spokesman for the agency said, "even though the results are pretty marvelous. But we think it will mean fewer trips to such places as the Pacific, Morocco, South Africa and so forth."

Michael Whittaker, who stages some of the biggest fashion shows in Europe, voted "yea" for Transflex.

"Some of the girls may be a bit disappointed that they won't be going to far away places," Whittaker said, "but they will be earning more by staying in town."

Valla, who developed Transflex under the auspices of the Rank Organization, said the idea behind his development was very simple.

Valla said the technique involves the use of reflecting screens and a one-way mirror for simultaneous "foreground and background projection."

He said the system merely requires models to walk inside projected pictures.

"I could take a photograph of a girl in a bikini in the House of Commons or in a dignified London club, apparently talking to a bishop, and you would not know he was not really there," Valla said.

A Rank spokesman said the potential of Transflex is tremendous. "It could have applications within every photographic, motion picture and television studio anywhere in the world," he said.

Valla said that although the idea behind Transflex is simple, it took him four years to perfect it.

"For the first Transflex installation, I had to knock down one wall in my apartment," he said, "to give myself working space."

He said that an average installation for a photographic studio would run about $11,200.

Valla did not indicate whether any American photographers had expressed an interest in his innovation.

Honeywell, distributors of the Rollei twin lens reflex camera, now have "surgically clean" camera service facilities in four cities—New York, Chicago, Denver and Los Angeles.

AERIAL APPLICATION TAUGHT

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University is the only campus in the nation where a special course in "aerial application" is offered annually. It covers the use of aircraft to spray, dust, plant crops, fight fires or restock lakes with fish.

To enter, the student must have at least 500 hours flying time in an aircraft of less than 350 horsepower and possess a commercial pilot's rating. Students are taught how to maneuver—and dodge obstacles—at low altitude and make effective use of the equipment.

The average height of eucalyptus trees in Australia's forest belt is 150 feet.

Dominicans Use Presbyterian Classrooms

AKRON, Ohio, (AP) — The unusual is happening every day this fall on West Exchange Street — a half dozen nuns, wearing the habit of the Dominican Sisters, are working in the Westminster United Presbyterian church.

This advance in ecumenical spirit started a week before Labor Day. Our Lady of the Elms Roman Catholic school, across the street from the Presbyterian church, had a problem: opening of school was going to find them short of space for nursery and kindergarten classes.

A new building had been planned, but at a late stage it developed a new foundation would be needed and it could not be complete before Nov. 1.

Mother Mary Eileen, E.I.M.S. superior, and a colleague paid a visit to their neighbor, Dr. Noel A. Calhoun, Westminster church pastor. He offered them four large Sunday School classrooms and use of the kitchen and other equipment.

When Mother Eileen asked about rental, Dr. Calhoun replied: "Sister, we'll not even talk about that; we consider this our Christian duty."

Later the 21-member session of the United Presbyterian Church gave unanimous approval. Classes for 92 pre-school tots from 3 to 5 years old moved in.

"Five years ago, I don't believe those sisters would ever have walked into this building," Dr. Calhoun said. "There has been a softening on the part of Catholics through the great spirit of pope John, and the Protestant world had reacted in turn."

"With this spirit alive, it would not behoove us to deny the space."

Dr. Calhoun would have been happy to have his church's act of charity unpublicized, but the grateful sisters had a story printed in the Cleveland diocesan weekly newspapers. Then mention followed in a national magazine.

"If the opportunity came, I feel there are other Presbyterian ministers who would do likewise," Dr. Calhoun said.

He said his "congregation is totally delighted" with the move. "There has been no unfavorable comment from any source," he said.

Socialists, Reds Gain in Finnish Vote

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Socialists and Communists made sweeping gains in Finland's municipal elections, figures showed today.

Riding a cres of popularity among younger voters and buoyed by a general disenchantment with rising prices and taxes, the leftists in the voting Sunday and Monday picked up at least 322 town council seats. The opposition dropped 248 seats. A total of 12,777 were at stake.

The opposition dropped to 48.7 per cent of the total vote cast, compared to 53.3 per cent polled in the 1960 municipal elections.

The Socialists polled 25.3 per cent and the Communists took 24.6 per cent.

RARE HORSE OPERATION

HEREFORD, Tex. (AP) — For the second time in the knowledge of area veterinarians, a horse's leg has been successfully amputated. The right hind leg of a champion Quarter Horse mare was amputated after she was struck by a car. The mare was in foal and valued at $5,000. She will be fitted with an artificial leg and used as a brood mare.
